Art Unit: 2872

1. The restriction requirement set forth in Paper No. 5 and 8 is withdrawn in view of the mischaracterization of identifying Fig. 4 as a species which may affect applicant's election of a particular invention. Accordingly, a corrected restriction requirement follows. The examiner apologizes for any inconvenience.

2. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

I. Claims 1-61, drawn to an apparatus and method for producing an inhomogeneously polarized optical beam from a homogeneously polarized input optical beam comprising a first phase shifter, a second phase shifter and at least one polarization beam splitter (Bsp), classified in class 359, subclass 495.

II. Claims 62-87, drawn to a microscope and a method for microscopic scanning comprising a source, a polarization converter and a microscopic imaging system with or without the particular polarization converter details (ABbr, ABsp), classified in class 359, subclass 368.

3. The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions II and I are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because of the omission of the particular polarization converter details as evidenced by claim 62 and 77. The subcombination has separate utility such as an apparatus and method for producing an inhomogeneously polarized optical beam from a homogeneously polarized input optical beam without a microscopic imaging system.

4. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

5. This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species of the claimed invention:

- 1). The polarization converter depicted by Fig. 1;
- 2). The polarization converter depicted by Fig. 2; and
- 3). The polarization converter depicted by Fig. 3.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, claims 62 and 77 are generic.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

6. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

7. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(I).

8. Any inquiry concerning this communication should be directed to R.D. Shafer at telephone number (703) 308-4813.
